*The following screenshots were taken within Salesforce CRM for illustrative purposes only.

Global Express Entry

Start typing an address and Express Entry will suggest a verified address, city, state/province and ZIP Code™/postal code to reduce keystrokes by 50%.

Global Express Entry returns a number of verified and deliverable addresses after only 4 keystrokes. Once you see the correct address, simply click it, and the address will auto-populate into the contact form.

Global Contact Checking

Clean, correct and standardize name, address, email and phone for 240+ countries. Includes geocoding for 40+ countries. Features Caller ID that authenticates ownership of mobile numbers and verifies the number is live and call able.

After a contact is run through Global Contact Verification, a summary message shows the validity of each contact data element and parses the address.
Personator®
Verify address, name, phone and email – all in one service. Match name to address for quick customer identity verification. And, add missing email, phone and address info, and demographics like date of birth, deceased info, marital status, household income and more.

SmartMover℠ NCOA
Update the addresses of U.S. and Canadian customers who have moved to reduce undeliverable mail, stay in contact with customers and meet USPS® Move Update requirements for certain postal discounts.

Clean Suite’s Personator validates name, address and email, and then reports that the phone data could not be validated.

Here, Clean Suite’s Personator is returning census details and address data like Gender, Salutation, Address Type, Carrier Route and Delivery Point Code.
MatchUp
Remove duplicate leads, accounts and contacts, and maintain a single, accurate view of your customer.

Property
Access detailed property and mortgage info on more than 110 million U.S. properties including parcel details, owner contact info, assessed value, deed information and more.

Based on fuzzy matching, Clean Suite’s MatchUp functionality dedupes contact records, in batch, based on Matchcode. Here, address is chosen. At the bottom of the dashboard, you can check the status of your projects.

Here is a small sampling of the hundreds of fields that are returned when you run a contact’s address through the Property function.

Fantastic Software for a Tidy Database

‘We use it with the Salesforce platform. Its easy to use and is a wise investment for anyone looking to verify address information for mailings and client records. A few clicks and you have a clean database and mailing list. This would have otherwise taken hours to accomplish.’

Angela M

Delta Faucet, a global plumbing and fixture organization, unknowingly participated in a real-life A/B testing situation that proved the impact of Melissa’s address authentication tool, Global Express Entry (GEE). The test – only one of the company’s two customer service call centers was using GEE. However, the differentiators between the two call centers did not become apparent until Delta Faucet implemented the Salesforce CRM.

Mistypes & Incorrect Info Was Causing Headaches

The company discovered that the call center without GEE had a major problem – mistypes and acquiring the wrong information was making the customer’s original problem even worse.

When a customer phoned in with an issue, the center not only had to identify the customer, but also had to manually enter the customer’s information, including name, accurate street address, apartment number, accurate ZIP Code, and things like phone numbers and email addresses. The rep was sometimes entering the information two or three times – a frustrating and costly experience for both parties.

Shorter Call Times, Simplified Checkout, Happy Customers

On the contrary, the center using Melissa’s address autocompletion tool filled in data fields quickly and flawlessly, even after just a few keystrokes by reps. Incorrect mail addresses, location errors like inaccurate ZIP Code and even typos and invalid email addresses were eliminated. Customers were identified quickly and shipments arrived when and where they should.

Needless to say, the outlying call center that hadn’t adopted GEE quickly switched to full implementation. The result was shorter time-per-call, simplified shopping cart checkout, reduced shipment returns and higher customer satisfaction.
